

Heavyocity Announces Release of Dystopia

NEW YORK, October 14, 2025 – Heavyocity Media proudly introduces Dystopia, an evocative hybrid instrument that plunges composers into a post-apocalyptic landscape. Built from a collection of analog synths, organic sources, field recordings and experimental processing, Dystopia transforms raw sound into emotion. Each of its more than 390 sound sources is steeped in gritty character, providing a palette for scoring dread, decay and desolation.

Brimming with fractured rhythmic pedals, signature alarms, haunting textures and over 200 unique sonic events, Dystopia offers a comprehensive scoring tool that brings the sounds of the Aftermath to the composer's toolkit.

Featuring over 380 presets — from inspiring cue creators to unnerving pads and complex rhythmic devices — Dystopia delivers a raw sonic identity shaped by Heavyocity's award-winning sound design and the powerful Dystopia engine. The Dystopia Designer facilitates complex layering, rhythm sequencing, and endless combinations of sound sources, while the Dystopia Menu packs 36 sound sources into a single preset, ideal for quickly auditioning a diverse range of tonal and atonal material.

Together they make Dystopia the ultimate scoring companion for crafting evocative sonic worlds and scoring the end of times.

"With Dystopia, we wanted to build a sonic world unlike anything we've done before, an instrument that scores desolation and dread in a whole new way," said Ari Winters, Creative Director, Heavyocity. "It's a journey into a world where the remnants of civilization have all but vanished."

For a limited time, Heavyocity is offering Dystopia for $119 (reg. $149). In addition, owners of Oblivion or Gravity 2 will get an additional $20 off with registered serial. Offer ends October 31st, 2025.

Dystopia is a "powered-by-Kontakt" instrument, offering full functionality in both the full version of Kontakt 7 or later and the free Kontakt Player.
